DHK Tactical Riot Gear

The DHK Tactical Riot Suit consists of chest protector, back protector, should protectors, abdomen & groin protectors, and legs & arm protectors. There are a total number of 34 modules used in the system to provide the maximum protection with the use of high strength PE fabrics that are incorporated into the system with advanced methodology used in ballistic protection systems. Our system also utilizes specialized fabrics and other materials for improved ventilation and flame resistance properties, while providing maximum protection against impacts. The mechanical fasteners (such as the metal and plastic buckles, inserts, nylon webbing, heavy duty Velcro, and industrial grade elastic materials) are utilized in the final configuration of the system to provide many years of reliable service to security and police forces.
